

Course Alignment Map

The Course Alignment Map is a visual representation of how the components of your course (assessments, activities, and learning materials) align with the stated course learning objectives. The main purpose of this document is to help course developers plan and structure their course so that it is well-aligned.

A well-aligned course means that all components of the course lead learners directly towards achieving the expected outcomes and objectives. This results in more intentional instruction, appropriate assessments, and meaningful engagement of learners.

The Course Alignment Map also serves as evidence that the alignment requirement of the DL Quality Standards has been met in the course development process.

Map Your Course

An example of a partial Course Alignment Map is given below. Use this as a guide to complete the blank Course Alignment Map on the next page for your own online course development.
